

CARDIOVASCULAR AND MATERNAL HEALTH PROJECT

The purpose of this project is to impact maternal mortality in the African American community through preconception care and cardiovascular health education.

You are invited to participate if you are:

- ✓ 18-45 years of age
- ✓ African American Female
- ✓ Not currently pregnant

Participation in this Project:

Time Commitment: This project will consist of a virtual education session requiring a pre session and post session questionnaire from each participant. This study will require no more than one hour of time which includes the presentation and completion of questionnaires.

Benefits: Taking part in this study will benefit participants by enhancing knowledge of maternal risk, cardiovascular disease, and prevention measures.

Risk: Taking part in this study poses no risk to participants.

Project Details:

When: November 21, 2020

Time: 11:00 AM- 12:00 PM

Virtual Location: Join via Zoom link:

<https://ung.zoom.us/j/96421878379?pwd=V0JUZUExa04waXZOQmt4L1o3MU51dz09>

Meeting ID: 964 2187 8379

Passcode: 235156

For more information contact Nicole Watkins at nmwatk9871@ung.edu or (678) 439-1472.

This project is being conducted through the College of Health Sciences and Professions at the University of North Georgia, Dahlonega, GA.

Research Collaborative Organization General Missionary Baptist Convention of Georgia, Inc.

UNG IRB APPROVED Study 2020-162-WEB