The Count East Georgia Tele-Town Hall, a “stop” on Fair Count’s Virtual Bus Tour, presented a panel discussion featuring Commissioner Emily Davis (Baldwin County), Commissioner Gloria Cooper (Hancock County), Mayor Joyce Denson (Town of Toombsboro), and the local partnership specialist. With over 1000 people participating, the question and answer period drummed up a vibrant discussion leading to action on behalf of the participants. Although most had completed the census, they all committed to contacting at least 10 people to encourage them to complete the questionnaire. Those who had not completed the census committed to doing so. Responses were obtained by the on-call survey.

NORTHEAST GEORGIA TEAM

Census Week in Atlanta to Motivate Hispanic Participation

From July 6-10, Univision hosted ‘Census Week’ to encourage the Latino public to fill out the 2020 Census. The network and Univision’s Regional Community Empowerment Director Mariela Romero produced a special program in Atlanta. The program featured an interview with Mid-Atlantic Director Juliana Cabrales who talked about the importance of the Census and their Cuenta Conmigo campaign.

Univision made a commitment to encourage all Hispanics to be counted in the 2020 Census. As such, Univision offered to dedicate special coverage of the 2020 Census on its digital platforms. Additionally, every day through Facebook Live, Univision explains how to fill out the questionnaire and talks with experts about the importance of participating in the census for the development and well-being of communities. The goal of Census Week is to motivate Hispanics to complete the questionnaire, especially those who live in difficult-to-count communities.

WLHR 92.1 FM Pushes the Census in Franklin County, GA

92.1 WLHR is a regional but locally-focused FM radio station that serves Franklin and Hart Counties in Northeast Georgia along the shores of Lake Hartwell, the second largest lake east of the Mississippi River. Known as “Lake Hartwell Radio,” 92.1 WLHR provides service to a total of nine Georgia counties and two South Carolina counties. WLHR is the only community FM radio station in Franklin, Hart, Stephens, Madison and Jackson Counties. WLHR understands the importance of the 2020 Census and counting everyone in Franklin County. A local Sheriff agrees that a great way to reach that community is by having Census PSAs broadcasted over 92.1 FM.
